HARDING TO CUT EXPENSES FURTHER

Will Insist That Budget Makers Limit Expenditures So This Year's Surplus Of $200,000,000 Will Be Exceeded Next Year.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, June 18.—A economy bill to be introduced at the annual meeting of the government's business organization.

The president, it is said, will expect budget makers to cut so deeply into government spending next year that this year's record of a surplus of $200,000,000 will be surpassed.

President Harding will deliver the principal address at a meeting of all budget officers and bureau heads of departments and independent agencies this afternoon, urging the government to launch a new campaign of economy that will effect even greater savings. Efforts also will be directed to stopping waste in the use of supplies bought for government use.

Budget Director H. M. Lord, will outline methods by which he hopes to further coordinate government buying and distributing agencies to eliminate waste of funds and improve use of supplies.

Through economy measures invoked the past year, the actual operating expenses of the government have been reduced by more than $200,000,000 according to treasury officials. During the new fiscal year still larger revenues are expected from principal revenue sources.

BRITAIN TO REJECT HUGHES'S PLAN

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, June 18.—Semi-official announcement was made this afternoon that Great Britain has decided to reject State Hughes's plan for adjustment of the "dry ship" controversy.

Washington submitted the draft of a convention under which United States would be entitled to search suspected liquor smuggling vessels within a 12 mile limit off the American coast. In return, foreign ships were to be allowed to take liquor into American ports if sealed.

The convention pointed out that the three mile limit, recognized by international law, should remain effective in all matters except in cases where ships were suspected of liquor smuggling. Copies of the draft were sent to France, Italy, Spain and Japan as well as England.

SIX SEE FOOLISH FATHER KILLED

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, June 18.—Six little children, ranging in age from six months to ten years, were fatherless today because Aaron T. Rossignol, a mechanic, wanted to show that he had "nerve."

Rossignol hired a commercial airplane to take him on a flight over the Potomac river. While fifty feet above the water, he crawled out on a wing and with a cry: "I have plenty of nerve." He swung clear and dove. His body hurtled over and over on its downward flight. He struck the water with terrific impact, breaking his neck.

His wife and six little children sat in the family automobile and watched. He had not told them he intended "a stunt."

Felix Rigau, pilot of the plane, was arrested.

MARK'S FALL HITS GERMAN LABOR

Wages Are in Millions but So Are Prices—Workmen Want Dollar Set Up as Basis—Government Test This Week.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, June 18.—The Cuno government today is faced with a labor wage revolt which threatens to get beyond control of the trade union leaders. The latter have just sent a warning to Chancellor Cuno which is a repetition of the warning of June 2 which remained unanswered.

Labor wants a sweeping readjustment of wage scales, insisting that the American dollar or the gold mark be set up as the basis.

Germany today is a country where every workman is a millionaire, but the more millions he gets the less he can buy for his paper marks because prices keep pace with the rise in the value of the dollar. Saving is useless for the same reason.

The present week finds the government in a critical position while awaiting a decisive answer to the latest reparations note addressed to the entente. Internal labor storms are brewing which may easily develop into a general strike. But the trade union treasuries are depleted and it would be impossible to give relief if a general strike broke out.

A big meeting of the heads of the various unions has been called for next Thursday.

SEVERAL CASES IN POLICE COURT

Chat Christiana and his brother, John, were arrested Saturday on a charge of public intoxication by Officer Welch who found them on lower Broadway. This morning they had sobered sufficiently to face Judge Robert G. Groves in police court, who fined Chat $10 and his brother $5. John had the necessary money to pay both his own and brother's fine.

Eugene Fodor of New York, arrested by Officer Soper for speeding 30 miles an hour, paid a $10 fine. Peter Augustine of 10 Ann street, arrested Sunday by Officer Kuehn, who charged Peter with running 40 miles an hour, was fined $15. An extra five dollars was tacked on because of the excessive rate of speed.

Charles Schoonmaker, known to the police as the "fit thrower of Esopus," called at the Salvation Army services Sunday afternoon and created a disturbance. He was arrested by Officer Camp. This morning he was fined $10 or ten days in jail. He accepted the jail sentence.

Levi Becker of Saugerties, arrested by Officer Shoemaker for driving past a trolley car discharging passengers, paid a $5 fine.

SWIMMER DROWNS IN BINNEWATER

Alexander Gulbis, 33 years old, of New York city was drowned in the Fourth Binnewater Saturday evening about 6:30 o'clock while swimming. Gulbis, who was employed in New York city as a mechanic, frequently came to this section and with friends had come up for the week end. He was known as a strong swimmer and last Sunday had crossed the lake several times to prove his ability as a swimmer. Saturday evening he was observed as he was evidently stricken with a cramp but as he was not known to dive under and come up some distance from shore it was thought at first that he was fooling.

When he came up a second time it was learned that he was in distress. Friends made every effort to save him but it was impossible. It is thought that he was stricken with a cramp as he struck a spot of cold water over one of the many springs which feed the Binnewater lakes. He had been in the water some time.

So far as is known he had no relatives in this country.

The body was not recovered until Sunday morning. Coroner W. N. Conner took charge of the body upon its recovery.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 1 o'clock from the funeral parlors of Conner & Valentine on Fair street, the services being conducted by the Rev. Lucas Boeve of the First Dutch Reformed Church. The body is being held pending instructions for interment.

Ford Denies He'll Run For President or That He is Member of Klan; Calls It Un-American

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Springfield, Mass., June 18.—Henry Ford will not be a candidate for the presidency in 1924. The Detroit manufacturer so declared just before leaving the city today.

Ford had conducted a three day search in western Massachusetts towns for additions to his collection of antiques.

"I have no desire to be president of the United States," he said. "I am too much occupied with my own affairs to become the next president and I do not intend to run. All this talk you hear about my name being associated with the presidency is newspaper talk. There is nothing in it."

Referring to the Ku Klux Klan, Ford said: "I never belonged to any organization and never intend to. I think the Ku Klux Klan is un-American and if I join any organization it would be one that wouldn't require me to wear a mask."

FOURTEEN COLORED GAMBLERS CAUGHT

At the Goldrick yard seven were taken in tow. When arraigned before Judge Webber, fines of $2 each were imposed on the men and the ladies were paid. The brickyard sections of the county are being kept under strict watch this season in an attempt to prevent the usual disorder which has been prevalent for years during the summer season when the yards were in full operation.

TROOPERS CURB SPEED MANIACS

Secure Punishment For Many Other Violations of Highway Laws Over Week End—Making Road Safer.

According to State Troopers who were busy patrolling the roads in this section Sunday was the busiest day of the season and several minor accidents were reported at various points in the county. Along the Ashokan boulevard where Troopers Ross and Roche were stationed several people were arrested for reckless driving and other offenses. The boulevard offers very convenient and tempting stretches to step on the gas and see what the car will do and several speed maniacs were halted Sunday. Traffic on the north shore of the Ashokan was equal to mid-summer Sunday and the troopers were placed at dangerous points to keep the cars moving and prevent accidents.

Homer Ferris of Peekamoose was fined $5 for reckless driving when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Smith in the town of Olive. Fred Buley of Ashokan failed to heed warning signals and paid a $3 fine. Charles Slantz of Arkville had no mirror on his omnibus as required by law and was fined $2. Clarence Young of Allaben was also fined $5 by the same official for disorderly conduct.

Not only reckless driving, speeding and similar violations of the state highway laws are being watched out for but other violations of the laws which make the use of the highways dangerous for careful drivers are being given careful consideration by the troopers in an effort to make the highways safe.

REED HURT WHEN CAR TIPPED OVER

Traveling Salesman From New York City Had Narrow Escape When His Ford Runabout Turned Completely Over on Hurley Road.

C. B. Reed, Jr., a traveling salesman in the employ of the Beckley-Ralston Company of New York, had a narrow escape from serious injury this morning when his Ford runabout turned completely over in making the turn in the Hurley road at the John H. Beatty farm.

From what Officer Kuehn of the police department, who visited the scene after the accident, could learn, Reed was proceeding out Hurley avenue at a high rate of speed. There was another car approaching Kingston and as it passed the Reed car he heard what sounded like an explosion. Glancing around the occupants saw the Ford car turn completely over.

Reed was picked up and rushed to the office of Dr. H. P. Van Wagenen on John street, who found he had been badly cut about the head. He dressed the wounds and sent Reed back to the Stuyvesant Hotel where he had spent the night advising him to go to bed for several hours.

Water Department Decides to Shut Off City Water Unless House Holders Have Fixtures Repaired—About 5,000,000 Gallons a Day Used.

Kingston residents at the present time are consuming water at the rate of about 5,000,000 gallons a day. The average consumption should not exceed 4,250,000 gallons according to Superintendent John H. Harrison of the water department.

The waste of water is due to the fact that all over the city are to be found leaky fixtures and the department has instructed the two inspectors of the department to notify all owners where such fixtures are found to have them repaired at once or the supply of water will be immediately shut off.

During the winter months considerable water is wasted in Kingston by householders allowing the faucets to run full force day and night to prevent freezing. There is said to be no excuse for wasting water during the summer months.

Superintendent Harrison when seen today stated that the supply used daily was abnormal, and it is found necessary to curtail the supply or the city will face a water famine. Every householder should assist in conserving the supply of water on hand and see to it that all leaky fixtures have immediate attention.

Elsewhere in The Freeman will be found an advertisement calling attention to the matter.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

A REAL FROG

George Green Frog and the Pond Fairy were on their way back to the good old frog pond. George had been having a lot of adventures, for he had gone visiting at Gums Landing where the Snobs lived.

He had not liked it after he had been there, though at first he had thought it would be fine.

George had been feeling superior to all the frogs in the pond and so the Pond Fairy had offered to take him away where the creatures thought more of themselves.

At first George had thought his new home was delightful but before long he disliked these other creatures who put on airs and then he thought how silly he had been to do so, too. They had made rude remarks about his having been a tadpole once but George really didn't mind.

He thought how silly such talk was. So he sang the little song the Pond Fairy had left with him in case he needed her again. "Tell me more about those creatures," he asked as he was nearing his home once more.

"Ah, George," said the Pond Fairy, "it was as I thought. You really didn't belong to the Snobs and you never really, really landed at Gums Landing—never really landed," she repeated.

"The Snobs are very unhappy people. They are known by most as the Snobs as you've just realized, though they have spelt their name backwards and have called themselves Snobs."

"Gums Landing, you see, is Smug Landing turned around. For people who become Snobs or Snobs are very smug and self-satisfied."

"They think they're better than any others and they think that what makes them better is because their grandfathers and great grandfathers had high positions."

"What does it matter if you were a Tadpole? You grew into a frog didn't you? And you can become a real frog—a frog with a frog heart and frog feelings and frog friendliness."

"The reason you thought they were big at first was because Snobs try to impress us with their size but if we see right (you took your best glasses, you remember) we can see that they're just so small they're hardly worth noticing!"

"And you didn't really mind what they said because you had too much real sense—even if for a while you did have some funny ideas in your frog head."

"Because you didn't mind what they said and because you had good sense, their voices grew so low and what they said dwindled off to nothing. But they're waiting for you at the Pond. Come, let us hurry!"

So right back to the pond now went George Green Frog and the Pond Fairy. It didn't take them long as George had not been away long enough to find it difficult to get back, and really he didn't even need the

"Nearing the Pond."

Pond Fairy's help though he was glad of her company, for she talked to him of many things. Suddenly he heard a great noise. He was nearing the pond and the Frog Glee club was giving a concert.

"May I join?" he asked as he hopped hurriedly along to where the other frogs were.

"Goog-a-room, goog-a-room, indeed yes," they croaked.

And when later on they asked George for a solo he sang this song:

I thought I was better than all the rest
Which proved to be a mistake.
For high society I went in quest
And found it was awful small.

If you think you're not much it may be A mistake.
But if you think you are great you're
A bit of a fake!

And, oh, frogs, forgive me, for being a snob.
As I think of it now I choke down a sob.

Let me stay in the pond and let this be my goal.
That I'll never be ashamed that I was a Tadpole!

For the thing that counts is what you are.
If you're a frog don't wish you were a star!

For if you got up with the stars so high,
I think you'd be lonely up there in the sky.

Away from the frogs and the friends
that you know.
My lesson is learned: I know it is so.
Goog-a-room, goog-a-room, the pond for me.

Ah, I see a bug. Ha, ha, much glee!
And now that I've swallowed it let me say
By saying I'll always be your frog friend.

Use or Abuse?
"Henry," said a mother to her ten-year-old, "haven't I always told you to use your napkin at the table?"

"Why, I am using it, mother," protested Henry, with an air of injured innocence. "I've got the dog tied to the leg of the table with it!"

GAS BUGGIES—People Can Be Too Agreeable at Times

The KITCHEN CABINET

(© 1923, Western Newspaper Union.)

It is clearly the business of the mind to build it more stately mansions as the swift seasons roll. For the mind cannot remain fixed, no matter what the psalmist thought about the heart. Ourselves, like everything and everybody else, must change.—Edgar J. Goodspeed.

WHAT TO EAT

For those who like onions the following dish will be enjoyed.

Scalloped Onions and Peanuts.—Cut the onions into quarters, cook in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and reserve the broth for soup. Butter a baking dish and put into it a layer of onions, add a layer of ground peanuts, another layer of onions and peanuts. Pour over a rich white sauce well-seasoned, cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until brown. Cheese may be used in place of peanuts.

Oatmeal Bread.—Dissolve one-half of a compressed yeast cake in one-quarter of a cupful of lukewarm water. Heat two cupfuls of milk and when boiling pour it over one cupful of rolled oats. Add one-fourth of a cupful of sugar or molasses, two teaspoonsful of salt, two tablespoonsful of fat, and mix well. Cool and add the yeast and flour enough to make a firm dough. Set in a warm place to rise. When it has doubled in size, shape into two loaves. When light, bake one hour.

Rice Pudding.—Wash one-third of a cupful of rice, mix it with one quart of milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of sugar, a grating of nutmeg and the grated rind of half a lemon. Bake in a pudding dish, stirring three times during the first hour of baking. Bake for three hours in a slow oven.

Creamed Vegetables.—Take one pint potatoes cut into cubes, one cupful of carrots diced, one medium onion minced, one cupful of celery diced, one pimiento, one-third of a cupful of salt pork diced. Fry the pork until brown, add the vegetables and cook for a few minutes, then add boiling water and a teaspoonful of salt, cooking until the vegetables are done. Add a tablespoonful of butter to one of flour, mix well and add a pint of rich milk, cook until smooth, add the vegetables and serve hot, seasoning as desired.

Time's Cash Value

MODERN methods and appliances have set a new standard for a day's work. Time is the one big factor. This is true in the factory, on the farm, in the home, or what not.

Time is money today. And anything that multiplies the value of an hour is increasingly valuable.

Advertising is an annihilator of time. It provides a short cut between a manufacturer or merchant and you. It makes it possible to tell you in a few minutes all you want to know about the services or articles you need.

A quick glance through this paper enables you to sift out the things that interest you and in a moment you can know just where and when to go for what you want.

Figure how much valuable time advertising saves you if you use it properly. Think how much needless walking and talking it saves you and your neighbors.

Yes, advertising has a big value to you

ERROR THAT WAS PITIFUL

Little Wife Meant Well, but Dyed Hair Almost Meant Death of Her Husband's Love.

He had gray hair and his wife was a little blonde, bobbed-hair person who looked scarcely more than a child. Again and again they were taken for father and daughter.

She let her hair grow and then she had it dyed gray.

Her husband was horrified. Somehow his love seemed to have grown less.

"I always used to think it hurt him awfully when I was taken for his daughter," the little woman told the Woman. "But it seems he loved feeling that this young thing was the woman who had fallen for him. I'm going to do all I can about having the dye bleached out. You see, I've bobbed my hair again—and as the new yellow hairs grow in his love seems to be coming back again. It's so hard to tell," she ended. "I felt I was doing something so wonderful for him and it almost broke his heart!"—New York Sun.

Motor Cars Responsible for Good Road Building

The great demand for motorcars that is responsible for many automobile factories working day and night is attributed in a measure to the work accomplished by good roads advocates during the past few years. In turn the automobile itself is accountable for many good roads movements. The two are closely linked.

ENGLISH IN FRANCE

France's lead in the arts and refinements of life and other things, including the stunts of Napoleon, made French the language of diplomacy and courts all over Europe. For very many years no Frenchman but the student of literature saw need of learning any language but his own. But it appears that the World War and the invasion of France by two million friendly American doughboys changed all that. An American who went to France to get needed practice in spoken French now complains that he failed of his aim because all the Frenchmen he met "insisted on practicing their English" on him. And it seems that "they spoke so much better English than he did French that no sooner did he try to prove his own skill than they politely but firmly took command of the conversation and carried it smoothly along in his own language."

Though unwelcome to Americans who want to speak French, this is unquestionably a good thing for France. And surely Americans can still get what they want by stepping out of the tourists' beaten track. In the smaller towns and villages of France there must still be quite sufficient numbers of men, women and children to serve the purpose through their inability to speak any language but their own. As for the average tourist who speaks only English and is not ambitious to do more, he will be only too glad to find his pathway made smooth by a pretty general acquaintance with "anglais" among the alert French folk of today.

NO END TO TAIL-TWISTING.

After the Irish Free State was erected and every British soldier was withdrawn from Ireland, and especially after the two bitterly contending Irish factions themselves ceased to shed blood and entered into a truce, it was very generally supposed that the Irish question had been finally eliminated from American politics. It was supposed to be no longer necessary for American politicians to "twist the lion's tail" vigorously and repeatedly during every election campaign, and peace lovers in every part of the country heaved a sigh of relief after long waiting. But it seems that the reasonably and hopefully expected has not happened, after all. Our politicians are notified without loss of time that the old tail-twisting can not be dispensed with and must be kept up with all the energy displayed in former times. For here is the Gaelic American published in New York heatedly announcing:

The United States is ripe for revolt against the betrayal of its mandates against the British League of Nations and all other foreign entanglements. If Lloyd George or Lord Robert Cecil were running the United States in the interests of England, they could not do it better than Harding, Hughes and Hoover are doing. With these treacherous declarations Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan sounds a clarion call to the friends of Irish freedom throughout the nation to gird their loins for the battle of 1924 and administer the same defeat to the Republican, pledge-breakers that they did to Woodrow Wilson in 1920.

In other words, just as the Democrats got it in the neck in the name of Irish freedom in 1920, so will the G. O. P. get it in the neck in the name of the same in 1924, for though Ireland itself may bury the hatchet for good, the appetite for tomahawks and tail-twisting on this side of the Atlantic will never be appeased.

KLAN DEFIES STATE LAW.

The New York State law requiring the Ku Klux Klan to file its roster with the Secretary of State is said to be "openly flouted from one end of the State to the other." The Literary Digest prints a picture of a large Klan gathering at Eastport, Long Island, with the masked assemblage repeating after the "King Kleagle" the penalty for violation of the oath prohibiting members from revealing the names of fellow members—the penalty being "disgrace, dishonor and death." Another picture in the Digest shows the oath being administered to 700 new members. The separate Klan gatherings in New York State to protest against the Walker law are "discriminatory and unconstitutional" are said to have numbered from 100 to 8,000 in attendance, which indicates a pretty large membership in the State. Most newspapers are opposed to the Klan, but the enforcement of the Walker law seems to be problematical.

Yet even in its initiation ceremony it seems that the Klan boasts of devotion to the "enforcement of law and order." According to a Buffalo Express reporter, at a recent Klan gathering in his neighborhood to initiate new members, affirmative answers were required to the following questions: "Are your motives in joining the Klan the high one of service? Are you a white Protestant Gentile? Do you believe in Christianity? Do you owe any allegiance foreign to the United States? Do you esteem the United States above any government, political or ecclesiastical? Do you believe in the enforcement of law and order by proper and justifiable means and authority? Do you swear to practice Klanishness to your brothers? Do you believe in the supremacy of the white race? Do you promise to obey the constitution of the Klan? Apparently the New York Klan is as determinedly opposed to the Walker bill as is the Klan in general to Jews, Roman Catholics and negroes.

By ROBERTSON KIFFLIN CO.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper, enclosing self-addressed and stamped envelope for reply.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. I see the kingfisher is also called a halcyon. What connection is there between such a bird and the kind of times we call "halcyon days?"
2. Is there any such thing as a laughing hyena, or is that just an expression?
3. Are there glaciers in Australia?

Answers to Previous Questions.

1. I would like information about a fish known locally as "grinner," "Grinuel," "cypress trout," etc. Seem to have the habits of the mud cat or bull head cat. Have a feeler at each side of the mouth, body shape of a pike.
2. As nearly as we can guess, this may be a member of the family Amilidae, itself called Amia calva, or locally, "John A. Grindie," "grindie," also dog-fish, m-fish and bowfin. Abundant in Great Lakes and throughout Ohio and Mississippi Valleys. The color description in Jordan and Evermann's Fishes of North and Middle America does not correspond very well with the additional notes our correspondent sent, but the bowfin has the barbels at the side of the mouth and does bear names resembling those supplied.

3. How is it that birds can keep a correct focus on prey when they swoop down quickly from a height? Birds (and certain reptiles) have a special membrane, called the pecten, in the eye, by which they are able to adjust the focus, and do it rapidly and automatically. Roughly speaking, it works something like a series of shutters.
4. Why do crocodiles have such pop eyes?
The explanation has been offered that they, and hippopotamuses also, have both eyes and nostrils shaped to bulge from the head, in order that slight and scent may be used without exposing the head or body. The "erected" type of eye and nostril act as a sort of periscope.

PETER SCHUYLERS HELD FIELD DAY

Here Saturday and Five Hundred Enjoy Gala Affair—Albany Plant Employees Guests—Baseball, Reception and Dance on Program.

On Saturday, June 16, under perfect June skies, was held the first Peter Schuyler field day of the present season, the employees of the Albany plant of Van Slyke & Horton being the guests of the Kingston employees.

The Albanians arrived at the Kingston plant, two hundred strong, in busses and private cars, at 2:45 p. m. They were welcomed by the reception committee and escorted to the Athletic Field. After a tie-tying contest by the girls of both plants, in which three boxes of candy were offered as prizes, the ball game was called. Thomas A. Horton, treasurer of the firm, pitched the first ball and the game was on.

The Kingston Schuylers, trailing by a score of five to one for four innings, finally opened with a fusillade of hits, knocking two pitchers from the box and clinched the game by a score of 11 to 5.

Returning to the plant refreshments were served and a general good time and dance followed until 9 o'clock. The Peter Schuyler Jazz Orchestra of five pieces furnished the music. Two very sweet solos were rendered by the boy soprano, Master Robert Liscomb, who is the grandson of the Kingston plant matron.

The plant was prettily decorated. A large welcome sign and American flags decorated the front entrance. One of the rolling floors, set aside for dancing and the serving of refreshments, presented a gay and festive appearance with its numerous American flags and myriads of ferns and wild flowers.

FRUIT GROWERS REVIEW YEAR

Confidence that cooperative marketing will re-establish New York fruit on markets where it has been displaced by western fruit was expressed by over a hundred growers of Western New York in attendance at the annual meeting of the Western New York Fruit Growers' Cooperative Packing Association, Inc., held in Rochester recently.

Better production records, standardization of their fruit and a uniform pack have already gained a reputation for Catawag Brand fruit as indicated by sales amounting to $1,803,564 during the past year made by the growers organization, it was shown.

Manager N. R. Peet reported a total of 3,386 cars of fruit shipped by the association. He said that a deduction of 10 percent was made by the central for operating and sales costs; this in addition to deductions for storage, freight, icing, government inspection and the like left $1,244,430 to be returned to the local associations. A saving of 15 percent on supplies bought for locals was made by the central, according to Mr. Peet.

President H. W. Davis of Alton made a plea for a five-year contract period rather than the present one-year period.

Ernest C. Roenn and Miss Freida R. Ewel married.

A MAN AND HIS WIFE:

The other day a man and his wife called on us. While showing them our new vault, we asked the man if he had a safe deposit box.

Said he: "I don't need a box. I have no securities. All my money is invested in real estate." "Yes," said his wife, "and I have to care for all the deeds, mortgages and insurance policies. And I won't be burdened with the responsibility any longer if we can rent a box in a vault like this for only $3.00 a year."

Whereupon the man and his wife rented a box. MANY A MAN IS WISE; MANY A MAN'S WIFE IS WISER.

A PRESBYTERIAN CHILDREN'S DAY

Children's Day was observed Sunday morning in the Bondout Presbyterian Church when the services were in charge of the Sunday school, and an attractive program was rendered. The church had been artistically decorated with cut flowers, and there was a large attendance of the members of the congregation.

The music was in charge of Dr. C. E. Bishop, musical director of the Sunday school. During the services the chorus choir of the church, in charge of Miss Virginia Los Kamp, rendered several appropriate numbers.

The rite of baptism was conferred on four boys, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Van Aken, Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Van Deusen, and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wood, by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Charles G. Ellis.

A recitation, "God is Good," was charmingly rendered by Mary O'Connor, Margaret McCullough and Sara Chris Gage. "Johnny's Pa" was recited by Burton Van Deusen, while the girls of the infant class sang "The Rain." Francis Phillips recited "Trouble Proof," and Helen Conklin "The Echo of a Song." The little girls of Mrs. Gage's class sang "Sleep Little Blue Pigeon." While Warren Russell recited "The Prayer of Cyrus," Virginia Brown recited "A Better Game," and Kathleen Mesker "If." Margaret Brown gave an "If for Girls."

Dr. Ellis gave another of his delightful Children's Day talks, while the offertory solo was sung by Miss Los Kamp.

At the evening service Dr. Ellis took as his sermon theme "How to Meet the Devil." This was the last Sunday evening service for the summer.

Next Sunday a representative of the Anti-Saloon League will occupy the pulpit at the church.

The subject for the Thursday evening service will be "The Master's Magnanimity," a study of the character of Christ.

Friday afternoon a meeting of the members of the fancy booth circle of the annual fair will be held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Huhne on Abeel street.

Next Sunday evening the congregation will attend the baccalaureate services at the high school.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 18.—The arrival of the crews from the University of Washington is expected to be the high spot of the day in the life of the college crews in camp here, training for the intercollegiate rowing regatta June 28. The giant westerners defeated the Wisconsin crews Saturday but their strength is the subject of considerable speculation here. Syracuse, Columbia and Pennsylvania rested on their sweeps over Sunday. All three squads are in excellent shape. The morale and health of the men is higher than ever before and the confidence of the coaches themselves bespeaks well for an evenly matched regatta.

Character of the Story.

A wonderful audience appeal in its atmosphere and unusual cast with one thrill following another. An excellent love story. Contrasting types including the aristocratic old Southern colonel shown in the settings of his beautiful estate, and the rough mountaineers in their tumble down cabins. Here you will find the usual angle combined with the picturesqueness of the hill men.

The Critics Say:

"Some first rate audience appeal in an interesting and unusual story. It contains the sort of action, atmosphere and romance which will make it satisfying. The theme is different. A pleasing romantic strain. It should cover a big order of preference in any audience."—The Film Daily

"Frank Keenan gives a fine performance. The two boys are well played by Edward Burns and Lloyd Hughes. All the mountain stuff is finely directed and realistic."—New York Morning Telegraph.

PLANTED SEVEN MILLION TREES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, June 18.—The rapid strides made by the movement for the reforestation of idle land in New York state is clearly shown in the orders received by the conservation commission during the spring planting season just closed.

As compared with last year, the number of orders is more than doubled. The total number of trees shipped is nearly doubled, making this year's sales of trees more than 2,000,000 in excess of any previous year since the reforesting movement began.

Figures compiled by the conservation commission from the reports of tree shipments from its nurseries show:

The total number of trees shipped was 1,104,525.
The total number of trees shipped a year ago was 3,687,360.
The increase this year over last was 3,117,165.

The total number of orders this year 1,216 as compared with 567 a year ago.

EASTERN FARMERS MEET AUG. 2-3

A big meeting of eastern farmers will be held in Albany on August 2 and 3 for a discussion of mutual problems. The meeting, which is an annual affair, has been called by farm bureau federations of the eastern states.

Representatives of farm bureau federations and other farm organizations of New England, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland will be guests of the New York federation for the event.

Sessions will be held in Chancellor's Hall in the Educational Building, according to E. V. Underwood, secretary of the state federation. On the evening of August 2, the delegates will attend a banquet at the Ten Eyck Hotel.

Mr. Underwood has invited O. E. Bradburn, of Ohio, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, as chief speaker, and has Mr. Bradburn's acceptance.

Committees of local farm bureau units in the vicinity of Albany will be formed to arrange for various events, Mr. Underwood said. Auto tours have been planned so the delegates may visit points of agricultural interest on their return home.

EASTERN FRUIT SHOW THIS FALL

Representatives of fruit growers associations and horticultural societies of the eastern states, met in New York Friday and completed a permanent organization for the big Apple Exposition and Fruit Show to be held in Grand Central Palace, New York city, next fall. Eight eastern states have already arranged to participate in a huge campaign to advertise eastern apples and other fruit. Governor Smith of New York just recently signed a bill passed by the last legislature appropriating $10,000 to assist the New York fruit growers in the educational features of the proposed exposition.

Representatives of many organizations, including the Hudson Valley Fruit Growers' Cooperative Association, Clintonville, were present. The headquarters of the Fruit Show have been established at Room 1,102, Grand Central Palace, New York.

D. A. R. CHAPTERS OBSERVE FLAG DAY

About forty members of Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R., motored to Saugerties Thursday afternoon to the home of Mrs. Charles Spaulding on Barclay Heights to unite with the Saugerties Chapter in celebrating Flag Day—a perfect day and a perfect setting for Old Glory as it floated from the tall flag pole on the artistic grounds sloping gently down to the Hudson river.

The exercises were held in the beautiful old drawing room on the north side of the house, and were opened by prayer by the Rev. Mr. Coddington. This was followed by the singing of America and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. The historian, Miss Isabel Overbaugh, gave a resume of the work of Saugerties Chapter for their 22nd year. Mrs. Spaulding, in a few well chosen words, welcomed the guests and invited them to reserve June 14 for a probable Saugerties invitation.

The recent Mrs. Van Hovenberg, responded for the Kingston delegation and called upon the past regent, Mrs. Fessenden, to tell of the work of Wiltwyck Chapter, who in turn called upon Miss Edith Holmes to speak of her Americanization work, of which the chapter is justly proud. The music for the day was especially fine, as follows:

Mrs. Fred Lewis and Mrs. Keator, duet, Home to Our Mountains (Il Trovatore); Miss Williamson, solo, Spring's Awakening; Miss Page, My Ain Folk. The children's dancing on the lawn was most artistic, the Little Miss Muffet dance being given by Julia Welsner, and the scarf dance to the music of Chaminade's Scarf Song by Betty Darrow, Betty Dickhout, Julia Welsner and Hester Gray. After delicious refreshments, Mr. Spaulding lowered the old flag to the singing of Star Spangled Banner.

Swallow's Long Flight

An English swallow with a ring on its leg, placed there in England, was found dead recently near Johannesburg, South Africa, according to H. F. Witherby of London, who said this is the seventh swallow known to have flown from England to South Africa. It is not known how long the birds take to make the trip, but it is supposed they travel leisurely, covering 8,000 to 10,000 miles each lap.

EVOLUTION OF SAFE DEPOSIT BOX

The following is quoted from a recent issue of the Safe Deposit Bulletin, published by the New York State Safe Deposit Association, of which the First National Bank or Rondout, corner Broadway and Strand, is a member.

"The safe deposit idea is very old. We find curious examples of the safe deposit idea, such for instance as that of the Emperor of Anam, a principality of India. He kept his gold in a pool of water which was guarded by crocodiles and when he wanted to withdraw gold from this deposit he caused the crocodiles to be killed. When he had taken what he wanted of the gold, he had a fresh supply of crocodiles put in the pool.

"We find the idea carried out more fully in the days of Rome, although the safe deposit vaults in Rome in early days corresponded more closely to our modern warehouses.

"The French, always an inventive race, in order to guard their valuables, gave a great deal of attention in the 17th century to curious locks. We find there were locks that were poisoned so that if one touched them it resulted in instant death. We find locks so constructed that if they were touched knives flew out, which caught the hand of the person who had interfered with them. We find that up to the 1700's much more attention had been paid to the locks themselves than to the receptacles which held the treasures.

"Between 1700 and 1800 in England they used treasure chests built of very heavy, substantial wood. Then they began to surround these chests with bands of iron. Later they began to make the whole receptacle of iron, but it was not until 1820 and 1830 in the United States that anything approaching the modern safe was developed. After that, progress was rapid. About 1865 in New York city the first safe deposit vault was brought into operation. This was followed by a constant progression in the idea."

And now, throughout the entire country, every progressive and modern bank has a safe deposit department.

It is no longer necessary to store valuables in a crocodile pool.

Nor is it considered safe to store valuable papers, insurance policies, bonds and jewelry in a tin box about the house, or a small safe at the office. Neither of these are fireproof nor burglarproof. Banks today are installing fireproof and burglarproof vaults that insure every protection, and the cost to the renter of safe deposit boxes is so small as to make risk or worry unnecessary. In cities such as Kingston, private boxes may be rented for $3.00 a year.

NEARLY MILLION SHAD PLANTED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, June 17.—The Conservation Commission has completed the planting of 950,000 shad fry, in the Hudson river in an effort to increase the supply of this favorite food fish.

The eggs were obtained from the shad fishermen at a cost of twenty cents per thousand for fertile eggs and while the whole number of eggs secured was considerably in excess of a million the number that proved to be fertile did not quite reach the million mark. The eggs were taken to the Linlithgo hatchery and as soon as hatched were planted at favorable points along the river.

For years there was a steady decline in the number of shad caught in the Hudson until in 1915 less than 25,000 pounds were taken according to reports made to the Conservation Commission. Since that date as the result of the collection of eggs and planting of fry there has been some improvement and shad will be planted in increasing numbers as far as eggs are obtainable.

M'CONNELL GIANTS DROP TWO GAMES TO HARD HITTING COLONIALS

Colonials Make It Nine Straight and Bring Total Number of Victories Up to Nineteen—Ross Pitches Good Game on Saturday as Locals Win 6-5—Mickey Welch, From Tarrytown, Pitches Remarkable Game on Sunday—Sunday's Score 9-2.

The Colonials made it nine in a row and brought their total number of victories up to nineteen over the week end when they defeated the fast McConnell Colored Giants two games in a row.

The colored team showed the ease that they still have that same spirit which never pays die, on both Saturday and Sunday. They are a dangerous club all the time and a team to feel safe needs to have at least a six or seven run lead over this group of sluggers.

Sid Ross went in the box to oppose the dark boys on Saturday and pitched a good game. Although he was touched up for six hits he was not in danger any of the time. Sid retired six of the visitors by the strikeout route and walked one man.

A gentleman by the name of Harvey, who holds a win over the Colonials from last year, started things off for his team but not very auspiciously. After McCue, Robins, Dahn, Terpening and Schwab had all found him for safe hits the management of the McConnell team decided that it was about time to show the local team a different kind of a pitcher and so sent a boy by the name of Richardson in the box. Richardson pitched a very good game, holding the Colonials to four hits and two runs. Richardson retired four men by the strikeout route.

In Sunday's game the Colonials brought out a new pitcher, who has been pitching in the vicinity of Tarrytown for the last two years. Mickey put up an excellent exhibition and as a result he is going to stay with the Colonials and will join the local club in this city on Wednesday when the locals line up against the Red Hook Regulars. Mickey held the slugging visitors to eight hits and two runs. Furthermore Mickey did a little slugging himself, getting two hits out of three times at bat. Another of the outstanding features of Sunday's game was the fact that Brick Cragan, who played first in place of Bobby Coyle who is still out of the game with injuries sustained last Thursday at Red Hook, annexed three hits out of three times at bat which is considered fairly good slugging.

Things certainly started off with a rush on Saturday and it looked as though the scores would have to go out hunting for adding machines to keep track of the runs before the game was over after the first inning. Although the colored team only succeeded in putting one run over the rubber they showed the fans that they had some latent ability with the willow. However the Colonials started off as though they expected to see things up right at the start and then take things easy for the rest of the contest. Five hits and four runs and only one out didn't make things look very promising for Harvey and so as related above, he was relieved by Richardson. No runs were scored in the first after Richardson came in the box.

After the first inning things began to calm down somewhat and neither team scored or even managed to get a hit until the fourth inning when the Giants pushed two runs over making the score 4-3. Payne hit over short, Scott got on first on a fielder's choice and Payne reached second in safety. Then Cooper hit to deep right and both Scott and Payne scored.

Nothing more happened until the eighth inning when the Colonials put over two more runs. Dahn got on first due to an error on the part of the third baseman. Deegan was out at first after hitting a liner to the second baseman but in the meantime Dahn was around to second. Terpening hit a fly to right field and Dahn beat the throw in home. Billy Schwab then came through with a double and then Russell hit to center field bringing Bill in home with the second run.

A walk and a couple of hits gave the Giants two runs in the ninth but the rally was cut short just in time.

Sunday's Game.
The Giants started things off in the second by putting one run over the rubber. Scott, who is a good slugger, hit a single over second. Newsome hit a double to right field. Hucles hit a high bounder which Mac got under but Scott scored Hucles going out at first.

Three hits with a few errors gave the Colonials three runs in the third. A hit by Welch, Cragan being hit with the ball, Forbes making an error loaded the bases and then Dahn cracked a two bagger which sent two men over. Deegan sent a drive down the third base line and Robins came in home.

The bases were filled once more in the fifth inning. Cragan got his first hit. McCue was passed and Jack got on first on another error. Deegan hit to left scoring McCue and Robins. Two more hits by Welch and Cragan, an error by Bragg, and another by Johnson figured in the two runs the Colonials scored in the sixth. The Giants put over their last run in the seventh and the Colonials put over their last two in the same inning.

FIRPO SCORES ANOTHER KNOCKOUT IN MEXICO

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Mexico City, June 18.—Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine giant, was seeking new fields to kayak here today. Firpo, victorious by the knockout route over Jim Hibbard, American heavy-weight, today failed to show a single mark of his two round battle of yesterday. Hibbard scarcely laid a glove on the Argentine mauler.

The uneven match raised the ire of the spectators and it took hundreds of police and armed soldiers to maintain order at the ring. Firpo today challenged any American heavy-weight to come to Mexico to meet him. He added the "game is good down here."

Training schools being ended last month, Mrs. Neff invited all the leaders to come to her home this month for a picnic in Pompey's Cave, a very interesting and beautiful part of the Neff farm. The cave derived its name from the time of the Indian massacre when a slave girl by the name of Pompey fled into the cave with her baby to escape the Indians. Fifteen people partook of the broiled steak dinner provided by Mrs. Neff. Those present were Mrs. Henry Neff, Miss Margaret Neff, Mrs. A. Atkins, Mrs. Russell Trowbridge, Mrs. William DeGraw and Miss Evelyn Stevens of Kyserike; Mrs. Elmer Smith of Alkerville; Mrs. G. E. H. A Glass Mountain.
In the Yellowstone National park there is a remarkable mountain, a tall mass of rock which is formed in layers. Its color is black or dark crimson. The face of the cliff does not shine like glass, but through the points and projecting corners of the rock the sun shines, making a beautiful effect. If you hold a piece up to the light, the light shines through it. This rock is called "banded obsidian." It is a sort of cousin of the rock from which the Indians used to chip their hatchets.

Sacred Horses in Jap Park.
In the famed park in Nara, Japan there is a sacred horse. This shaggy, undersized animal is said to be about the funniest thing in Japan. He is pure white, and has one blue eye and one pink eye. He is kept in a small stable with a square hole for him to poke out his head to eat the oats which tourists bring him. The third largest bell in Japan hangs in Nara park, which contains 1,250 acres, and throughout which more than 3,000 stone and metal lanterns are scattered. Six hundred tame deer roam at will in the park.

Also in Nara park there is one of the three gigantic bronze Buddhas, and the largest. The others are at Osaka and Kamakura. One of the most venerated of Shinto shrines—Kasuga no Miya—is the goal of thousands of pilgrims every year. It has existed for 1,310 years.
